The mission of The White House Project is to ignite the leadership of women in business and politics. We connect, coach, and educate an ever-expanding alumnae network of 14,000 nationwide. We activate ambition, creativity, and necessary skills for innovative and effective leadership with our events and training. Through our Go Lead and Go Connect event experiences we cultivate the leadership mindset with a focus on early career women. We are building a pipeline of young leaders that will diversify all levels of leadership across disciplines with a focus on non-partisan political action.
